

For Discernment in Group

Creator God,
We come to you today at still another point in our individual journeys.
You have brought us here as a part of an awesome plan that was written in the stars before we were born, that was a part of the motion of the swirling of the universe before we took our first breath, a plan which we do not yet know or understand.

...But we trust you.

We are thankful for your constant love, and for bringing us to this place today.

We have heard you call us by name.

And as we open our hearts to the call we have heard, we pray that you continue to send your Spirit to be with us and guide us.
Deliver us from times of doubt.
Protect us from the fear of not knowing.
Instill in us an eagerness to learn more—about ourselves, our guides, our companions, and you.

Help us to keep our egos and personal goals from being stumbling blocks for us, for although the call is not clear to us now, it is, nonetheless,
a call to which we must respond.

Giver of all good things,
today we recommit ourselves
to the service of others.

Giver of all good things,
today we recommit ourselves
to your holy will for our lives.

Amen +

— Jim Shoulak